

Upgrade your security or fire system today with our in-house affordable finance solutions

STANLEY Assure™ is our finance solution for businesses wishing to benefit from up to date technology without the risks of asset ownership and with evenly spread, manageable monthly payment terms.

The concept is simple, in return for an agreed, manageable and regular payment covering all aspects of your security requirements, Stanley Security provides you with the very latest security technologies combined with a service and monitoring package that is specifically tailored to meet your individual business needs - not just for now, but also in the future.

STANLEY Assure™ delivers true peace of mind, as you are secure in the knowledge that you have the most advanced and practical solutions, the most supportive service and monitoring, and an affordable source of funding.

Customer benefits

- Benefit from having the best security technology and services without the need to own equipment outright
- Budget - no need for a large, upfront capital outlay
- Easy budgeting with clear visibility of monthly payments
- Flexibility to adjust the terms of the agreement as your own business circumstances change
- Service - wide range of flexible service options
- One provider - ease of dealing with one provider for equipment, services, and finance

→ Low start agreement

For customers who have limited capital budgets, we can structure a finance programme that avoids significant capital outlay in the initial period and spreads payments throughout the agreement term. This low-start approach can often prove to be an attractive option, avoiding the need to compromise on solutions by ensuring the payment programme fits your budget profile.

→ Capital release programme

Our Capital Release Programme is designed for organisations that have existing equipment and would like to realise the full or remaining value of the equipment. Under this offer, we will buy your existing equipment at its residual or market value (whichever is higher) or offer new equipment to an agreed value. We then agree a finance option with you that enables you to enjoy peace of mind for several years, either with the existing system or, even better, an upgraded solution. This option allows you to plan effectively for your asset replacement, providing you with the flexibility to roll out new technology when planned, rather than keeping equipment well past its optimal use-by date.
